illustrations, and a religious engraving (per month) and a few advertizements.

LGL certainly was interested interested in such magazines in the early 1850½: her 5 volumes - embossed with her name - of LADIES' WREATH certainly indicate that. Regrettably the hard covers of PETERSON'S MAGAZINE (vol. XXVI, no. 1) are missing and so are the first few and the last few pages of the volume.

Where did LGL buy such a volume. Did she buy it locally? Did it come in the mail. Perhaps I will run across an ad for the magazine in THE ADVANCE."
